

yESAO

young researchers initiative

XXXX ESAO conference, Glasgow, Scotland (UK), 2013

www.esao.org – www.yesao.org

HIC SUNT LEONES: bright and dark sides of the biomedical application in medicine

Sept. 9th Monday 19.30 yESAO get together, Corinthian Bar, Ingram St, Glasgow

Sept. 10th Tuesday Room 3.14, John Anderson Building, University of Strathclyde, 107 Rottenrow East

08:30-12:30

Focus on success and failure stories in medicine and in biomedical sciences

08:30-9:00

Lecture: K. Affeld "Failure and success in biomedical engineering - some experiences"

09:00-09:30

Lecture: M.G. Trivella "A long story between cardiology and research"

09:30-10:00

K.J. Palko : "Artificial patient as a tool for the clinical decision support:
its success and future plans"

10:00-10:30

M. Kuetting : "Setbacks and failures in the development of heart valves:
Learning lessons the hard way"

10:30- 11:00

Coffee Break

11:00- 11:30

M. Dodonov : "Better perfusion- better results. To pulse or not to pulse during CPB and long term cardiovascular assistance"

11:30-12:00

T. Verbelen : "Acute left ventricular failure after bilateral lung transplantation for idiopathic pulmonary arterial hypertension"

12:00- 12:30

Discussion

12:30-13:30

Lunch

13:00-14:30

Visiting the Department of Biomedical Engineering, University of Strathclyde

14:30-16:30

One goal, the research, but....many possibilities!

14:30-15:00

F. Moscato : "Impressions and feelings about the academic tenure-track"

15:00-15:30

Y. Robin : "How to patent your great idea in the medical technology field!"

15:30-16:00

C. Egger : "Working for an SME – My Experiences at CircuLite GmbH"

16:00-16:30

M. Cimmino : "Engineering and management in large companies. The case of artificial pancreas in Medtronic"

16:30- 17:00

Coffee break

17:00-18:00

yESAO next steps

19.30

yESAO Social Event

Sept. 11st Wednesday 9.30 AM. City sight-seeing bus tour.

For further information: francesco.moscato@meduniwien.ac.at; arianna.dimolfetta@ifc.cnr.it; evertz@imp.uni-hannover.de; johannes.grosshauser@charite.de; kaufmann@hia.rwth-aachen.de; jpalko@ibib.waw.pl; laurie.shedden@strath.ac.uk